Cavalier King Charles Spaniel

For my microsite, I want to focus on the dog breed, Cavalier King Charles Spaniel. The Cavalier is a popular spaniel breed that is largely seen in both the US and European countries and is recognized as a friendly lap dog and companion. They come in four different distinct colors and are often confused with English Toy Spaniels, as the two share a similar history and only diverged from each other around a century ago. The Cavalier is known for its affectionate personality and obedient nature, making it popular for families with young children. On a negative note, they suffer from various health problems common in purebred dogs, most notably mitral valve disease, which often lead to heart failure.

Outline of my website:

1. First page - Intro
 - a. Introduce the Cavalier, using various images of the dog breed
2. Second page - Overview
 - a. Basics of the breed, including standard weight, lifespan, popularity, and the four colors
3. Third page - History
 - a. Basic history, including its divergence from the English Toy Spaniel
4. Fourth page - Physical Traits
 - a. In depth physical descriptions
5. Fifth page - Temperament
 - a. Temperament and typical personality traits, good for families, etc
6. Sixth page - Health Problems
 - a. Health concerns that the breed suffers from
7. Sources - Links
 - a. Links to all references
